Aims and Objectives

Pursuing research work and Propagating advancements
Research is the backbone of metamorphosing any idea from bench to bedside and WIN-India would strive to pursue the same.

Promoting academics and mentor-mentee activities
Budding nephrologists would be duly mentored through regular academic activities, programs and interesting quizzes.

Promulgating teaching vignettes
The eminent members of the forum would impart with pearls of nephrology in continuum with the process of learning.

Public outreach activities
In sync with the concept of corporate social responsibility, it is imperative to promote mainstreaming of public engagement in the field of nephrology and women nephrologists will create public awareness programmes.

Providing platform for networking
WIN-India will strive a platform to ensure efficient networking with fellows belonging to nephrology and other allied specialities not only within the country but across the world.

Popularizing the subject
The significance of nephrology as a subject cannot be undermined and needs to be popularized among the other specialities and general public. The forum would essay this by diverse activities.
